والعلامات حتى 15 سبتمبر 2015

Holy_bible_1

اكرر اننا لا نحدد مواعيد بل فقط نشجع بعضنا بعضا بقرب مجيء المسيح

وأيضاً أوضح أنه يوجد نبوات لم نراها بعد مثل ابن الهلاك وهرمجدون

ولكن أيضاً علامات كثيرة من التي قال عنها الكتاب انها في الزمان الاخير بدأت تحدث بوضوح

ويجب أن ننتبه اليها. ونذكر بعضنا باننا نحتاج ان نستعد. والاستعداد ليس فقط قبل مجيء

المسيح بل أيضاً قبل الظلمة التي ستسبق مجيؤه ليكون عندنا زيت في مصابيحنا يكفي ان نعبر

هذه الظلمة وتكون مصابيحنا مضيئة وقت مجيؤه. بمعنى نحتاج من الان ان نستعد بقوة بأيمان

عامل وبتنقية القلب وان نثمر بالخدمة أي نجمع زيت في مصابيحنا لان الظلمة والضيقة اقتربت

جدا ومن لن يستعد لها بزيت كافي من الان لن يجد زيت في الضيقة لان وقتها تجميع زيت

سيكون صعب جدا بل أستطيع ان أقول من مثل العذارى انه لن يكون هناك زيت الا ما جمعه

سابقا. أفضل ان اقول لنفسي ولكم استعدوا الان لأنه اقترب فنكون مستعدين سواء جاء او نحن ان سلمنا وديعتنا عن أنى لا اقول انه اقترب لكيلا يقال عني كاذب وانشر اشاعات ولكنه يأتي بسرعة بغته. لا اعتقد اي أحد ندم لانه كان مستعد ومنتظر مجيء المسيح ولم ياتي المسيح في زمنه ولكنه انتقل وهو مستعد ولكن كثيرين جدا ندموا على عدم الاستعداد عندما انتقلوا

المسيح قال بعض العلامات مثل

انجيل لوقا 21

21: 10 ثم قال لهم تقوم امة على امة ومملكة على مملكة

21: 11 وتكون زلازل عظيمة في اماكن ومجاعات واوبئة وتكون مخاوف وعلامات عظيمة من

السماء

21: 25 وتكون علامات في الشمس والقمر والنجوم وعلى الارض كرب امم بحيرة البحر والامواج

تضج

21: 26 والناس يغطى عليهم من خوف وانتظار ما يأتي على المسكونة لان قوات السماوات

تتزعزع

21: 27 وحينئذ يبصرون ابن الانسان اتيا في سحابة بقوة و مجد كثير

سفر اعمال الرسل 2

2: 19 واعطي عجائب في السماء من فوق وآيات على الارض من أسفل دما ونارا وبخار دخان

2: 20 تتحول الشمس الى ظلمة والقمر الى دم قبل ان يجيء يوم الرب العظيم الشهير

2: 21 ويكون كل من يدعو باسم الرب يخلص

لماذا قال المسيح بعض العلامات؟

أولا لكيلا نرتاع

انجيل متى 24

مت 24: 6 وسوف تسمعون بحروب واخبار حروب لا ترتاعوا لأنه لا بد ان تكون هذه

كلها ولكن ليس المنتهى بعد

ثانيا لنؤمن

إنجيل يوحنا 14: 29

وَقُلْتُ لَكُمْ الْآنَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ، حَتَّى مَتَى كَانَ تُؤْمِنُونَ.

ثالثا لننتبه ونستعد

انجيل لوقا 21

28 وَمَتَى ابْتَدَأَتْ هَذِهِ تَكُونُ، فَاَنْتَصِبُوا وَاَرْفَعُوا رُؤُوسَكُمْ لِأَنَّ نَجَاتَكُمْ تَقْتَرِبُ.»

Massive dust storm blankets the Middle East: 'It seemed apocalyptic'

Posted on September 9, 2015

September 2015 – SAUDI ARABIA – A massive sandstorm that enveloped much of the Middle East on Tuesday sent Jeddah into total darkness at 6 p.m. The storm lasted for 40 minutes, with sand-laden winds so ferocious that one could hear the incessant rattling of windows in many neighborhoods. Abdul Hameed Abal-Ari, a senior official at King Abdul Aziz International Airport in Jeddah, told local media that flights were suspended briefly. "Incoming flights were diverted to nearby airports, while some departures were suspended." Seven flights were diverted to Madinah, Yanbu and Taif. "By 7 p.m., things were back to normal," he said.

"It all happened in a matter of minutes," said Sadiya Haneef, a resident of Al-Sulemaniya district in Jeddah. "I could see from my balcony a mushroom-like apparition on the horizon. I thought it was smoke billowing from a faraway district," she said. Soon it was clear to her that it was a sandstorm. "I had to literally struggle to close the door to my balcony. The gusty winds had sent everything into darkness," she said. The experience in another neighborhood was equally bad. "My mother noticed dark clouds when she was seeing off my sister for evening classes," said 13-year-old Mohammed Tareq. "Within minutes, everything was hazy in Al-Aziziya district and there was literally no visibility. It was one of the most bizarre things I've ever experienced. It seemed apocalyptic."

Unseasonal sandstorm sweeps across Mideast

AP By SARAH EL DEEB 19 hours ago

BEIRUT (AP) — An unseasonal sandstorm swept across the Mideast on Tuesday, blanketing Beirut and Damascus, causing the deaths of at least five people and sending hundreds of others to hospitals with breathing difficulties, officials said.

Reduced visibility prompted the Syrian government to call off airstrikes against rebel fighters, local media reported, and threatened planned protests by Lebanese activists over the government's inability to deal with the country's rampant trash crisis.

New Zealand's Rotorua Geyser erupts after 35 years of inactivity

Posted on September 9, 2015

September 2015 – NEW ZEALAND – A geyser which has been dormant for more than 35 years has caught locals off guard after suddenly erupting. The Papakura Geyser is located at the Te Puia Te Whakarewarewa Thermal Valley in Rotorua, where there are more than 500 geothermal wonders. This particular geyser had not shown any signs of strong life since 1979 – until last week, when intermittent 'bubbling' reached boiling point. Staff at Te Puia reported that the geyser erupted continuously for about 36 hours and shot water up to 4m high.

Te Puia's chief executive, Tim Cossar, said: "We keep a close eye on our various geothermal features to monitor any changes, and to see her suddenly start erupting was extremely exciting. We don't know when she will start again or how long she will continue to perform for us, but it was certainly fantastic to see it." GNS Volcano Information Specialist, Brad Scott, said the Papakura geyser was entering a new phase of recovery and experts would be monitoring its progress over the next few months.

"Over the past 18 months she has obviously pumped out the cold water and started hitting temperatures that allow for an eruption. We will be collecting water samples to confirm any changes in the water to support these observations," he said. "It is early days in our scientific investigation of these developments, but the geyser has clearly entered phase two of its recovery. In the first phase, which started 18 months ago, she attained a level of overflow and started regaining some heat, but it was not hot enough to prompt an eruption." –NZ Herald

More Avian Flu Clusters Reported in Cote D'Ivoire

04 September 2015

COTE D'IVOIRE - Six more outbreaks of highly pathogenic avian influenza have been reported in Cote D'Ivoire.

The outbreaks were clustered in two areas, three outbreaks in the centre of the country in Bouake, and three outbreaks in the south in Abidjan. The outbreaks were identified as H5N1 serotype.

Several species of poultry were affected, including ducks, chickens, pigeons and even doves. Both backyard and farm operations were affected.

4001 birds died across the six outbreaks, and the remaining 3398 susceptible birds on the premises were destroyed to prevent the disease spreading.

Pingtung culls ducks after second case of bird flu confirmed

By Chen Wei-han / Staff reporter

Advertisements

About 14,000 broiler ducks at three farms in Pingtung County's Yanpu (鹽埔) and Kaoshu (高樹) townships were culled on Thursday after it was discovered they were infected with avian influenza, the second confirmed case in Pingtung County within a week.

Bureau of Animal and Plant Health Inspection and Quarantine Director-General Chang Su-san (張淑賢) said ducks at the three farms were found to have contracted a new strain of the avian influenza H5 subtype virus on Wednesday, and a full culling was conducted at the affected farms on Thursday.

Chang said the three farms are within a 1km radius of a farm in Pingtung's Sinyuan Township (新園), where 5,780 broiler ducks infected with the H5 subtype virus were culled last Thursday.

She said the ducks culled this week were healthy, but preventive culling was conducted in accordance with epidemic prevention regulations, adding that the bureau instructed farmers to disinfect and clean the animals' enclosures to prevent the spread of the virus.

NINH THUAN — Bird flu prevention authority in the central Ninh Thuan Province has raised an alarm about a possible return of a new epidemic after an outbreak of H5N1 bird flu was discovered last week among a flock of poultry in the province's Ninh Son District.

About 1,000 ducks owned by Dang Hung Kien, a farmer in the Ninh Son District, were immediately culled after a variety of samples were confirmed to have been infected with H5N1 bird flu.

The farmer had earlier reported to the local health preventive authority that a large number of birds in his flock had died of symptoms of H5N1, such as blindness and paralysed legs.

A series of preventive measures were undertaken to quarantine the infected areas.

Earlier in May, an outbreak of H5N1 was discovered in the same district and a total of 2,500 ducks were culled.

Lake Buhlow in Pineville has been closed after hundreds of fish died because of a low oxygen level, officials reported.

The dead fish are causing quite a stink – literally – but only if you are near the lake. As of noon Wednesday, the smell could not be detected from U.S. Highway 165, which runs near the lake.

A news release from the city of Pineville said the lake will be closed until early next week, which was recommended by the Louisiana Department of Wildlife & Fisheries.

"City of Pineville officials were notified early this morning of what is commonly called a 'fish kill' occurring at Buhlow. Subsequent testing has showed the oxygen level in the lake to be below .01 and that oxygen depletion is causing the killing of 'bait fish' around the lake," the Pineville news release said Wednesday.

"We apologize for any inconvenience this may cause the boating and fishing public."

Most of the dead fish that can be seen are near the banks. There were no accumulations of dead fish in the open area of the lake.

Most of the dead fish are 3 to 5 inches long, but some are game fish about 8 to 10 inches long.

Barricades have been placed at the entrance to the lake to keep vehicles out.

Over the past fifteen years, Bangladeshi pisciculture has undergone a revolution, bringing the nation to fourth position globally in the farming of freshwater fish. For the last several years, koi fish, first Thai koi and subsequently 'all female' koi, have shared centre stage; but from three years ago it was Vietnamese koi that took the mantle of most exciting koi breed, with the promise of the highest profits. The Vietnamese koi industry has blossomed since, without a hitch, until now.

Serious pollution leak kills 'thousands' of fish

Salmon, trout, and other types of fish have died. Credit: PA

Thousands of fish have died after a serious pollution leak in Cumbria.

A team of Environment Agency officers are currently tackling the problem, at Skitwath and Dacre Becks, near Penruddock.

The pollution was reported by several members of the public who noticed dead fish and brown discolouration of the river on Tuesday afternoon.

Specialist Environment Officers and Fisheries Officers arrived at the scene to collect evidence and assess the extent of the pollution.

Initial investigations show that slurry has affected several miles of river, leading to the death of thousands of trout, salmon and other species of fish.

An Arctic iceberg drifts.

U.S. intelligence agencies, worried about the growing Chinese and Russian presence in the far north, have now sent in scores of analysts to determine how best to defend the Arctic space from those nations least friendly to America.

The Arctic Newswire reported that in the past 14 months, fully 16 U.S. spy and intelligence agencies have dispatched full time analysts to study the region. On top of that, the Office of the Director of National Intelligence put together a "strategy board" so these analysts would have a formal meeting place to discuss their findings, the newspaper reported.

PLA warships spotted near India's Andaman islands

Staff Reporter | 2015-09-07 | 14:11 (GMT+8)

The INS Saryu, one of the two Saryu-class patrol vessels stationed at Port Blair under the Andaman and Nicobar Command. (Internet photo)

The Indian Navy has decided to deploy more vessels near the Andaman islands in the Bay of Bengal after spotting Chinese warships conducting reconnaissance activities in the region, according to the Duowei News, a US-based outlet operated by overseas Chinese.

The only tri-service theater command of the Indian armed forces, based in Port Blair of the Andaman and Nicobar islands and known as the Andaman and Nicobar Command, would very likely to become the primary target of the People's Liberation Army if China and India went to war. The attention of the Indian military is currently on the defense of its mountainous northern border with China, leaving the Andaman islands vulnerable to a potential Chinese attack.

Iranian Warships Confront U.S. Navy On 'Daily Basis'

U.S. naval forces operating in and around the Strait of Hormuz, a critical shipping lane, are "routinely approached by Iranian warships and aircraft" on a "nearly daily basis," according to a Pentagon official familiar with operations in the region.

During these interactions between U.S. and Iranian forces, American aircraft and ships are routinely photographed by the Iranians for intelligence purposes, according to the official, who said that most confrontations between the sides are "conducted in a safe and professional manner."

The disclosure of these daily run-ins comes following the release of footage by the Iranian military purporting to show a reconnaissance mission over a U.S. aircraft carrier station in the Strait of Hormuz.

The clip, which was filmed at the end of August and is punctuated by dramatic music, shows U.S. personnel aboard the ship and shots of U.S. warplanes stationed on it.

Iranian Revolutionary Guard Corps "drones have carried out such missions many times; although the drone remains for a long time above the [American crew's] heads, they didn't notice it," Iran's state-control media reported in Persian at the time, according to a translation by the Middle East Media Research Institute. "In some cases, [the American crew] did notice the IRGC drone awhile after the filming and tried to drive it off by sending a helicopter or fighter jet after it."

When asked about the veracity of the clip, a Pentagon official said that Iran conducts surveillance missions on a routine basis.

"U.S. Naval forces are routinely approached by Iranian warships and aircraft as they operate in the region, with the majority of all interaction by the Iranians conducted in a safe and professional manner," the official said. "This happens on a near daily basis."

The age of Russian nuclear drone submarines will be ushered in by Vladimir Putin.

An unmanned underwater vehicle (UUV) capable of delivering large-scale "city buster" nuclear warheads is being developed by Moscow, the Washington Free Beacon reported Tuesday. The vessel has been code-named "Kanyon" by the Pentagon.

"This is an unmanned sub that will have a high-speed and long-distance capability," said an official on condition of anonymity, the

Dmitri Donskoy TK-208 submarine heads for Syria

The world's largest submarine, the Dmitri Donskoy (TK-208), Nato-coded Typhoon, has set sail for the Mediterranean and is destined for the Syrian coast, DEBKAfile reports exclusively from its military and intelligence sources. Aboard the sub are 20 Bulava (NATO-code SS-N-30) intercontinental ballistic missiles with an estimated up to 200 nuclear warheads. Each missile, with a reported range of 10,000km, carries 6-10 MIRV nuclear warheads.

The Russian sub set sail from its North Sea base on Sept. 4, escorted by two anti-sub warfare ships. Their arrival at destination in 10 days time will top up the new Russian military deployment in Syria.

President Vladimir Putin's introduction of a nuclear force opposite Syrian shores builds up what first looked like an operation to fortify Assad's regime in Damascus into a military expedition capable of an air and sea confrontation with US forces in the Middle East.

US Secretary of State John Kerry suggested as much Saturday, Sept. 5, when he expressed concern over reports of Russia's "increasing military build-up in Syria" in a phone call to Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov. The State Department reported: "The Secretary made clear that if such reports were accurate, these actions could further escalate the conflict, lead to greater loss of innocent life, increase refugee flows and risk confrontation with the anti-ISIL coalition operation in Syria." Kerry was referring to potential Russian interference with US-led coalition air strikes against the Islamic State in Syria.

DEBKAfile's sources in Washington and Moscow report that the dispatch of a nuclear sub to Syrian waters is taken as a strong message that the Kremlin will not let the US impede its military intervention in the Syrian conflict and will go to extreme lengths to keep the way open for the flow of Russian troops to the war-torn country. This situation has gone a long way beyond Obama administration intentions when US-Russian talks were initially held for US forces posted in Turkey and Iraq, together with the Russian troops arriving in Syria, to launch a combined effort against the Islamic State. Those talks came to naught.

In its coming issue out Friday, Sept. 11, DEBKA Weekly 678 will reveal for the first time how Putin intends to array the Russian forces he is consigning to Syria, their operational planning, their military coordination with Iran and, above all, how the new Russian intervention in Syria may impact US Middle East policy and Israel. The bible indicates that a time would come in the future, where Israel would have to defend herself against a Coalition of Nations that would attempt to annihilate her, and Persia 'which is modern day Iran' is one of those Nations mentioned in the Prophetic War of Ezekiel Chapter 38 and 39. And a now according to a new report from Israel it appears that we have entered that timeframe as It's painfully clear by now that Prime Minister Binyamin Netanyahu failed in his mission to prevent a bad deal with Iran.

Islamic Trojan Horse? - US To Accept 5000-8000 Syrian Muslim Refugees Next Year

September 03, 2015 | John Hayward

According to Agence France-Presse, the United States will accept between 5,000 and 8,000 Syrian refugees in 2016. This is a modest number when measured on the scale of mass migration – a veritable drop in the bucket compared to the tide sweeping through Europe – but still much larger than what Americans were previously told to expect by their government. Previous statements spoke of less than 2,000 Syrian refugees this year, and an increase of only “a few thousand” in 2016.

The number may very well rise. “State Department spokesman John Kirby also said 15,000 Syrian refugees have been referred to the US for resettlement by the U.N. refugee agency,” writes AFP. “In December, Washington had said it had received 9,000 referrals from the U.N.”

It is further stated that the U.S. has faced criticism for “not taking more of the estimated four million refugees fleeing the civil war that began in 2011.”

The pressure to accept more than even the 8,000 currently floated by the Administration will be great, especially since their Plan B for resolving the refugee crisis isn't very plausible. “What we're really committed to is helping to foster the kind of political transition inside Syria, so that it is a safe environment for Syrian people to return, including the millions that are seeking refuge in Turkey right now,” said State Department spokesman John Kirby.

The US will take at least 10,000 Syrian refugees in the next fiscal year, which begins in October, following criticism from EU that Washington doesn't do enough. The announcement was made by White House spokesman Josh Earnest.

Fewer than 1,500 Syrian refugees have been resettled in the US so far as Europe is facing tens of thousands running away from the conflict in the Middle East.

The US response to the Syrian refugee crisis has been criticized as "fumbling, feeble" by the chief of the International Rescue Committee (IRC), while the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) recommended the US take 17,000 Syrian refugees for resettlement.

Mind Control by Cell Phone

Electromagnetic signals from cell phones can change your brainwaves and behavior. But don't break out the aluminum foil head shield just yet.

By R. Douglas Fields | May 7, 2008

Hospitals and airplanes ban the use of cell phones, because their electromagnetic transmissions can interfere with sensitive electrical devices. Could the brain also fall into that category? Of course, all our thoughts, sensations and actions arise from bioelectricity generated by neurons and transmitted through complex neural circuits inside our skull. Electrical signals between neurons generate electric fields that radiate out of brain tissue as electrical waves that can be picked up by electrodes touching a person's scalp. Measurements of such brainwaves in EEGs provide powerful insight into brain function and a valuable diagnostic tool for doctors. Indeed, so fundamental are brainwaves to the internal workings of the mind, they have become the ultimate, legal definition drawing the line between life and death.

iStockphoto.com/Sharon Dominick

Brainwaves change with a healthy person's conscious and unconscious mental activity and state of arousal. But scientists can do more with brainwaves than just listen in on the brain at work—they can selectively control brain function by transcranial magnetic stimulation (TMS). This technique uses powerful pulses of electromagnetic radiation beamed into a person's brain to jam or excite particular brain circuits.

Catholics, remarry! Pope Francis simplifies marriage annulments

Pope Francis has made it easier for Catholics to end their marriages, making the most substantial changes to annulment procedures in centuries. He said the reforms are aimed at providing a "just simplicity" for the "heart of the faithful."

An annulment, formally known as a "decree of nullity," is a ruling that a marriage was not valid according to Church law because certain circumstances – such as free will, psychological maturity and openness to having children – were lacking.

The annulment process has often been criticized for being cumbersome, lengthy, outdated, and expensive. Many say the rules discourage even those with legitimate grounds from trying to get annulments.

Shortly after the PBoC's move to devalue the yuan, we noted with some alarm that it looked as though China may have drawn down its reserves by more than $100 billion in the space of just two weeks. That, we went on the point out, would represent a stunning increase over the previous pace of the country's reserve draw down, which we began documenting months ahead of the devaluation (see here, for instance). We went on to estimate, based on the projected size of the RMB carry trade unwind, how large the FX reserve liquidation might need to be to offset capital outflows and finally, late last week, we suggested that China's official FX reserve data was set to become the new risk-on/off trigger for nervous, erratic markets. In short, the pace at which Beijing is burning through its USD assets in defense of the yuan has serious implications not only for investors' collective perception of market stability, but for yields on core paper, for global liquidity, and for US monetary policy.

On Monday we got the official data from China and sure enough, we find out that the PBoC liquidated around $94 billion in reserves during the month of August to $3.557 trillion (the lowest since September 2013)...

NEW YORK – Despite the stock market's return to triple-digit gains on Tuesday in apparent response to signs that China will take steps to stimulate its economy, bankers worldwide are warning a decision by the Federal Reserve to increase interest rates next week could precipitate a stock-market collapse.

Deutsche Bank, the European Union's biggest bank, has grabbed attention by issuing a warning to the Federal Reserve that a rise in U.S. interest rates now would constitute nothing less than a "premeditated controlled demolition" that could cause global stock markets to collapse a dramatic 40 percent.

TD Insurance
TD Critical Illness Insurance was there for Cheryl.

The Federal Reserve is scheduled to decide during the Federal Open Market Committee meeting scheduled for Sept. 16-17 whether to raise interest rates this year.

Various Federal Reserve board members have indicated that the drop in unemployment to 5.1 percent announced last week was "good enough" to suggest the U.S. economy is growing once again. The sign of growth triggers Fed fears of a 2 percent inflation rate unless interest rates are raised soon.

America's attention right now is focused on Kim Davis, the Kentucky county clerk who refused to issue same-sex marriage licenses and was jailed for her stance. Should she have obeyed the law, stood her ground or just resigned?

When President Obama defied the Defense of Marriage Act that was passed into law by Congress in 1996 and vowed not to defend it in court, he was applauded for his courage. But when an unknown county clerk defies a law because of her religious beliefs, she is condemned and mocked. Talk about double standards.

If every Christian in America resigned from their jobs instead of standing for their religious beliefs, what would happen to our nation? As Edmund Burk famously said, "The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing."

When man's laws violate God's laws, Christ-followers have a moral obligation to obey the higher law. Peter and John declared in Acts 4:19, "Whether it is right in the sight of God to listen to you more than to God, you judge." There is a long history of people who disobeyed man's laws because they answered to a higher

ASHLAND, Ky. — Following yesterday's jailing of a county clerk for stating that it is not possible for her to obey an order to issue marriage licenses to homosexuals against God's law, it is now being noted that the same federal judge also once ordered Kentucky students to be re-educated about homosexuality despite their objections.

In 2003, the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU)—the same group that filed suit against Rowan County Clerk Kim Davis—sued the Boyd County Board of Education to force it to agree to allow a "gay-straight" alliance club to meet at Boyd County High School. A number of parents had strongly opposed the group following its initial formation, with approximately 70 attending a school council meeting to speak out on the matter.

The school board temporarily suspended the meeting of all student groups due to controversy over the matter, but the Bible and drama clubs allegedly continued to meet despite the ban. Students with the alliance subsequently contacted the ACLU, which filed suit over the matter.

From This Point Forward, Christians Are Going To Be Banned From Holding Many Jobs In America

By Michael Snyder, on September 6th, 2015

Christianity is being criminalized in the United States. No, I am not talking about the kind of Christianity that is so prevalent in America today where "Christians" just ignore what the Bible says and do whatever they wanted to do in the first place anyway. Rather, I am talking about the kind of faith that Kim Davis has demonstrated. Christians all over this country are being put into positions where they must choose to either submit to the "new morality" or potentially lose their jobs. For Kim Davis, deciding to take a stand meant that she was thrown into prison. The radical judge that threw her into prison has said that she will stay there until she is willing to change her mind.

The pace of which our nation is circling the toilet is absolutely breathtaking. Just eleven years ago, a state constitutional amendment that banned gay marriage in Kentucky received support from 75 percent of the voters.

Imagine an America in which all children are educated according to biblical, Christian principles instead of modern, secular, liberal values.

Chaplain E. Ray Moore (Lt. Col. USAR Ret.), such a scenario is not just possible, but essential if Christians wish to reclaim the American culture.

"We take the position at the Exodus Mandate that the Scripture and sound theology teach that the education of children belongs to the family and the church or private associations, not government," said Moore, the founder and president of Frontline Ministries, Inc. and director of the Exodus Mandate Project. "We don't believe that government, even at the state level, has any role in K-12 education,

NOW PLAYING
Choir replaces 'Jesus' with 'Hillary' in gospel song

It was quite a spectacle over the weekend in New Hampshire -- when followers of Hillary Clinton sang praise songs to their Lord and Savior.

"I woke up this morning with my heart stayed on Hillary," crooned the Voices of the Heart, a "women's alternative chorus."

Assisted-suicide bill approved by California Assembly

By Sharon Bernstein

By Sharon Bernstein

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (Reuters) - A hard-fought measure to legalize physician-assisted suicide in California cleared the state Assembly on Wednesday despite opposition from religious groups and advocates for the disabled, and moved to the state Senate, where it was widely expected to gain final passage.

The measure, patterned after an Oregon law allowing terminally ill patients to obtain medication prescribed to end their lives, passed 43-34 after weeks of hearings and impassioned debate.

Arkansas to consider placing Satanic Temple's 'Baphomet' statue on Capitol grounds

The Satanic Temple has officially filed a letter with the state of Arkansas, requesting that the group be allowed to place a controversial statue of Baphomet alongside a monument of the Ten Commandments on the Capitol grounds in Little Rock.

The New-York-based religious group sent the letter via certified mail to the Arkansas Capitol Arts and Grounds Commission, asking permission to bring the large icon to the building's grounds. Baphomet is a pagan idol originally linked to the Knights Templar, but is now more associated with an image of a "Sabbatic Goat" drawn by Eliphas Levi in 1856. It depicts Satan as a goat-headed figure with

Parents Object After 7th-Graders Write 'Allah Is the Only God' in History Class

Tennessee parents are voicing their concerns about a middle school history assignment in which students were asked to write "Allah is the only God." Brandee Porterfield joined "Fox and Friends" this morning, saying she has no problem with her seventh-grade daughter learning about Islam as part of world history, but believes time should also be devoted to Christianity.

Dear Pastors,

There are things I urgently need for you to know. And there are things I desperately need you to tell me. I shudder to think where I'd be today if my pastor had not been bold enough to tell me the truth regarding homosexuality, a lifestyle in which I lived for more than 30 years. Pastors, please take time out of your busy schedule to read my humble plea.

First, I need you to tell me in no uncertain terms that homosexuality is a sin. Show me what the Bible says and tell me that the Word of God is eternal and does not change with the times. Please don't tell me that you won't address it or that you don't have an opinion. Because if you don't speak up, I am going to think that it's all right and will be headed for an eternity in hell. Pastors, when I come to you seeking answers, I need you to boldly speak the truth in love. My very salvation depends upon it.

Next, please let me know that Jesus' death on the cross was enough to cover any sin I have committed, including that of homosexuality. Please tell me that every sin, no matter how minor or major it seems, is an
